Steph Marziano

Producer/Mixer/Engineer/Songwriter

Hailing from the suburbs of Philadelphia, Steph is an exciting young up-and-coming Producer / Mixer. She moved to the UK to study sound engineering at LIPA, and after graduating in 2013 became the in-house assistant at SARM studios – gaining valuable experience under Trevor Horn, and working beside Neil McLellan and Liam Howlett on the Prodigy's most recent No. 1 album 'The Day Is My Enemy'. Since leaving SARM, Steph has gone on to work at Strongroom and RAK, engineering some of the biggest albums of the last few years. Steph has since gone freelance, and has recently produced the forthcoming album from Denai Moore for Because Records. She is definitely one to watch!
